GREENSBORO IS JUST BEGINNING TO GROW

So Declared Bird S. Coler to Baltimore Bankers.

VISITORS PLEASED.

The party of Baltimore bankers and capitalists after spending the day looking over the city and county expressed themselves last night before returning as delighted with the country, much more so with the people they had met, and announced their intention of paying Greensboro a more prolonged visit in the near future.

The party was composed of the following bankers and capitalists of Baltimore:

Sherley Morgan, of J. S. Wilson, Jr. & Co.

G. C. Goodrich, of Mackubin, Goodrich & Co.

Seabury Davies, of Poe & Davies.

Henry L. Duer, of Whealan, Duer & Lanahan.

Lathrop Haynes, secretary Guardian Trust Co., New York.

The distinguished visitors arrived yesterday morning in a special car attached to train No. 31 and at 8 o'clock had breakfast at the Guilford hotel. At nine o'clock they were taken in hand by a number of prominent citizens and carried to the Cone Mills in automobiles. After going over the mammoth plants they visited the city pumping station and the auxiliary plant of the Southern Power Company. They then proceeded to the State Normal and Industrial College and after inspecting the institution visited the plant of the Wysong & Miles Company. They then proceeded to High Point where luncheon was waiting at the Elwood hotel. The High Point citizens joined in extending a hearty welcome and every attention was shown the visitors. The party were shown over the residence and manufacturing portion of the city. The delegation returned late in the afternoon, expressing themselves as well pleased with the country, complimenting the county on the excellent roads they traversed.

Last night in the Guilford Hotel a banquet was tendered the visitors, about fifty being present. Unfortunately Mr. H. E. Orrick, president of the Baltimore Stock Exchange, was unable to be present, the strenuous day causing him to remain in his car on account of a severe headache. He sent his regrets at not being able to be present and thanked the citizens for the courtesies extended him during his stay here.

A nine course dinner was served in Manager Cobb's best style and it would have been a hard matter to have found a more congenial body of men than were gathered at the festive board. A Greensboro man was placed beside each visitor and each vied with the other in putting forth his best entertaining talent. An orchestra dispensed music before and after the banquet.

When the last course had been served and cigars passed around Mr. R. C. Hood, president of the Chamber of Commerce, arose and in introducing the toastmaster thanked the visitors for their presence and assured them of a most hearty welcome. Mr. Hood spoke of the growth of the city during the past 10 years, both in population and industrial development and ended by declaring that Greensboro had only begun to grow. He spoke of the climate of the Piedmont section and the many things which combine to make it a most delightful place in which to live. He introduced Mr. E. J. Justice, who acted as toastmaster.

Mr. Justice before introducing the speakers said that Greensboro liked to crow, but she had the spurs to back the crowing up. He pointed out the natural resources of the state and dewlt especially on the progress made in farming during the past five years. In behalf of Greensboro he thanked Messrs. Coler, Deal and Taylor for what they had done to develop the city.

Mr. A. L. Brooks was called on and he extended a welcome to the visitors and assured them that it was a pleasure to be in their midst. He hoped they would come again and assured them that Greensboro would always extend a cordial welcome.

Mr. Bird S. Coler, president of W. N. Coler & Co., owners of the Public Service Company, was the next speaker. He spoke of the company's properties here and said they came here to make money and invested their money here because they saw such bright prospects for Greensboro's development in the future, declaring to the Baltimore visitors that Greensboro has just begun to grow. While the company had been here but two years it was doing well and was confident of doing better in the future. He declared that it was to the company's interests to assist in every possible way in making Greensboro grow. He said he was glad to know that down here boys and girls are taught to read and write for up north this important feature of one's education had been abandoned. He complimennted the Chamber of Commerce in having such an energetic president as Mr. Hood and pledged his company to assist in every possible way in the industrial development of Greensboro and Guilford county.

Mr. Zeb. V. Taylor was called upon and he spoke of the struggle of the old electric company and how he interested Coler & Co. to the point that they took over the plant and developed it into such a magnificent system. He said he assured them of the loyalty of Greensboro people and they had learned since that he was speaking the truth. Many compliments did Mr. Taylor pay Greensboro. Speaking to the Baltimore visitors Mr. Taylor said three things were needed to make great cities. One was natural resources, these Greensboro has; another was men, and these Greensboro has; lastly was money and this Baltimore men has. He declared that the south offered advantages to Baltimore capitalists such as no other region could offer and there was no place in the south more inviting than the section of which Greensboro was the center.

Mr. N. J. Casey, of the Continental Trust Company, Baltimore, was the next speaker and he said that it was impossible to tell how pleased he was with what he had seen of the city and county, and especially pleasing was his meeting with the people of Greensboro. He declared that Greensboro was an inspiration even to Baltimore and he felt sure that every man would carry home lasting impressions that would prove most helpful. He said that it seemed to him that in Greensboro every man was a public service corporation working shoulder to shoulder in the advancement of the city's interests. The property of the Public Service Company was a credit to the city and its growth showed that it was intelligently managed. The best way to judge a corporation of this kind was to find out what the people it serves think of it and he had heard nothing but praise for the Public Service Company.

Mr. J. H. Kummer was the next speaker and he told a joke that brought forth rounds of applause. He said he was in Greensboro five years ago and the change was such that he would hardly have recognized the city. You have plenty of live wires here, both on the poles and on the streets and I believe that Greensboro is just beginning to grow, he declared. Greensboro is going after things and I hope she will get what she

[illegible]e banqueters then dispersed and re-[illegible]ired to the Merchants & Manufacturers' club where an informal reception was held, a number of Greensboro people being present to extend a welcome to the visitors. The members of the party left on their special car attached to train No. 32 for Baltimore at 12:30, a large number of Greensboro people accompanying them to the station.

The party visited Greensboro on the invitation of W. N. Coler & Co., owners of the Public Service Company, and that company was heartily co-operated with in entertaining the visitors by the Chamber of Commerce. As soon as President Hood learned that the gentlemen were coming he saw Mr. Deal and offered to assist in any way possible in showing the gentlemen over the city and county and his offer was gladly accepted. So it is due to the efforts of the Public Service Company that Greensboro was honored by a visit of such prominent and influential bankers and capitalists as were in the city yesterday and of the Chamber of Commerce for their hearty welcome. Every member of the Chamber of Commerce called upon heartily entered on the task of making the visitors feel perfectly at home while in the city and from the remarks made by the visitors last night, both before and after the banquet, everyone who assisted can rest assured that a good impression was made on the Baltimore bankers. They came to look the city and county over with a view of making investments here and it is quite probable that some of the visitors will again come to Greensboro and most likely bring down a goodly supply of capital to invest in a Greensboro enterprise as a result of yesterday's visit.

TAKES A STRAW VOTE

Mr. B. B. Bouldin took a straw vote yesterday with the view of ascertaining how public sentiment is with reference to the election Tuesday on the new charter.

The bulk of his work was done on this side of the railroad. He visited practically all the stores and interviewed a large number of voters on the streets. Of the voters canvassed on this side of the railroad he found 108 favoring the charter, 80 against it and 57 noncommittal. Of the voters who refused to commit themselves, two thirds, in the opinion of Mr. Bouldin, will vote against the charter.

He had time to interview only a few persons in South Greensboro. Of four or five that he interviewed there two were for the charter and the remainder against it.

Mr. Bouldin said that the straw vote taken by him indicated, in his judgment, that the election would be very close.

He is opposed to the charter, as his communications in the paper have shown, but in feeling the pulse of the voters he didn't seek to influence any one, contenting himself with merely finding how they stood on the question.

From Mr. Love.

I supose it will be presumptuous for me to be in controversy with such a renowned lawyer as Mr. Justice, but some one has said: Thrice armed is he whose cause is just. Now Mr. Justice admits in his last article that there should be a hearing. He now gets over on the equity docket, but equity will not hold against a positive statute. This was fully shown in the trial of our county officials. Judge Ward decided on the equity side but Judge Adams and the Supreme court decided on the statute as provided. That statute said that the pay in meetings only, should be in full pay for all services whatsoever. Justice's staute—And from his authority with respect to these matters there shall be no appeal. Now Mr. Justice must stand by his statute as written.

Three Fire Hose Nozzles.

Fire Chief Fred Taylor was presented with three up-to-date fire hose nozzles yesterday by Mr. W. D. McAdoo. One of the nozzles is especially adapted to cellar fire fighting where an abundant supply of water is necessary. The nozzles cost about $100 and the members of the fire department are proud of the gift of Mr. McAdoo's.

URGE ADOPTION OF NEW CHARTER

Prominent Men Favor Commission Plan.

A Number of Letters in Which Writers Give Reasons For Favoring Change From the Present Form—Only One More Day to Register and All Voters Urged to Attend to This If They Have Not Done So—Voters Urged to Support Charter.

Day after tomorrow the voters of Greensboro will either ratify or reject the proposed commission form of government for Greensboro and the advocates and opposers of the measure will be quite active during tomorrow and Tuesday. While the charter advocates believe the plan will be adopted by a good majority the opponents say the result will be close and they are going to keep the fight up until the last.

Tomorrow is the last day for registration and those whose names are not on the books at sundown cannot vote Tuesday so it is urged that they register early if they have not done so.

The following letters favoring the charter have been handed The Telegram for publication:

The citizens of Greensboro will have the opportunity of voting upon the adoption or rejection of the commission form of government next Tuesday. I have given this matter considerable study, as I am interested in our city, and having seen the great progress which we, as a city, have made in the past ten years, and while appreciating the fact that we must be careful and not make any mistake at this time, I feel no hesitancy in endorsing the proposed charter and hope that it will be adopted by a large majority. By adopting the commission form of government we will put the management of the business of the city upon a business basis.

JULIUS W. CONE.

I believe it to be a most progressive movement and therefore favor it.

J. C. PIERCE.

I have been heartily in favor of the proposed commission form of government from the first and I do not think the people of Greensboro can make a mistake in voting for this plan. Even if it should be a mistake, it can be revoked after two years' trial.

H. W. WHARTON.

I am in favor of the commission form of government, because we will have a business administration of the city's affairs and our officers will be directly responsible to the citizens.

W. L. CLEMENT.

The commission form of government as will be voted on next Tuesday will in my opinion prove a very decided improvement over the present system.

JULIAN PRICE.

Studying the commission form of government as tried in all the cities which have it and learning of its success in every instance makes me anxious to see it in our city.

J. T. J. BATTLE.

Why do I favor the commission plan of government? Is there a man who would dare to say that the present plan is not a failure?

Certainly there can be none if he is of discriminating judgment and sincere with himself.

Since we have failed so utterly in the past management of the city's aiffairs can any one oppose a new and improved emthod that holds out every reasonable chance of success. Let's try it.

C. A. HENDRIX.

I believe we ought to fix the responsibility for each city department on some certain individual and hold him to his full duty as is provided for in the new charter and I am in favor of it on that account.

W. H. CHISHOLM.

I have no question in my mind as to the advisability of adopting the commission form of government for the city rather than the present.

From every standpoint it offers better channels through which the business of the city can be expedited promptly and better and it seems strange indeed to me that any man who has ever considered the matter sincerely should hesitate over giving it his enthusiastic support.

The proposed charter has some things that I would have a little differently but time will reveal whose judgment is best and when the proposed plan is tried and it can be demonstrated to the men who give their whole time to their work that there is a better way we will have no trouble in shifting it to that way.

So I am wholly committed to the proposed new charter and shall vote to carry it into effect.

CHAS. H. IRELAND.

The county of Guilford made no mistake in employing a competent auditor to check up and keep track of the business of the county, as a study of the auditor's reports shows large gains in tax receipts. These gains were not made altogether because of increase in taxable values, as a computation of the figures will show. By a systematic system of purchasing supplies, by looking after the unlisted property, and by a proper accounting of all departments, thousands of dollars have been saved to the county. I feel sure that if Greensboro adopts the commission form of government on next Tuesday, we will have just as good results in our city's finances as the county has. In 1906 the taxable values of the county were $16,332,426, in 1907 the county's total receipts were $71,933.53. In 1909 the taxable values of the county were $22,421,555.00, in 1910 the county's total receipts were $140,943.54. These results could not have been made under the old system of running the county's affairs. Let us adopt the proposed charter and run our city upon business principles.

C. C. M'LEAN.

To the Voters of the City of Greensboro.

We, the undersigned citizens and voters of the city of Greensboro, have been favorably impressed by the results of the experience of other cities, and for other reasons, with the advantages of the commission form of municipal government.

The ideas, in the adoption of this form of government, are to put the government of the city where the will of the people can be made effective, and where each citizen, who is entitled to vote, can easily be given a voice in the affairs of the city government; and to concentrate responsibility upon a few men; and pay them so that they can devote their entire time to their duties. We believe that the bill to be voted upon on the 7th day of February is wise and substantially meets the demand for an improvement in the city affairs, and we trust it will appeal to the wisdom of the people of this city and receive a large majority. Respectfully,

J. P. COOK TO WOMAN'S CLUB

Tells of The Jackson Training School.

Chairman of Board of Trustees of the Reformatory At Concord Makes Instructive and Inspiring Address—Gives the History of the Institution Together With Account of the Work That Is Being Done By It.

An interesting and inspiring talk was given to the Woman's club yesterday afternoon at the Public Library. The speaker, Mr. J. P. Cook, a member of the board of directors of the Stonewall Jackson Training School at Concord, was heartily enjoyed in his helpful and instructive comments on the institution. He touched, simply and effectively, upon the history of the circumstances of the founding of the institution, the demand for it, and the measure of success which it had attained.

Mr. Cook told of the efforts to bring about the establishment of the training school. The seemingly impossible task of raising $10,000 was laid before the men of Concord, who responded nobly to the cause. He told of the purchasing of 300 acres of land on high hills three and a half miles from Concord. When the matter was laid before the General Assembly of 1909 it promised a careful hearing and the matter was referred to a committee. Arguments against the founding of the school were advanced. But its advocates showed clearly that these arguments were groundless. The fact that the president of any other state schools might refuse admittance to an undesirable person while Supt. Thompson must receive every reprobate sent to him by the courts made the need for the institution clear. The two hundred applications from all quarters of the state showed the great need of such an institution. The committee unanimously reported favorably and $30,000 for various needs was voted by the assembly.

Donations were fewer than they would otherwise have been because of the panic. But small amounts received from the whole state had furnished two cottages for thirty boys each, beside a sewerage system, stock and other necessities, without going into debt a single dollar.

The committee on the Bill Nye monument decided to erect a building at the training school as the best memorial possible. Whether the editors of the state succeeded in this undertaking or not, Mr. Cook declared that their efforts had advertised the institution substantially.

Soon after the opening of the school a paper, appropriately called the Uplift, was started and printed by boys who learned their letters at the training school.

Numerous instances were cited by Mr. Cook of the conditions of today as affecting boys and the training school's manner of remedying them.

Men of today, he stated, are too careless in their language around boys. He told also of a small boy who stole a purse to buy a pistol costing $12.50. Another little fellow stole a horse and buggy, drove to the next town, and sold them for $110. In both cases Mr. Cook laid the blame not on the desires of the boys but on the much stronger ones of the men who sold to them and who should have known better. Both boys, however, were arrested and brought to the training school.

The boys are trained to be men. There are no fences whatever to confine them and though every boy runs away the first week on account of homesickness, other boys find and bring them back and practically none make a second attempt. The boys work half the day on the farm or in the machine shops and are in school the other half. On certain days play hours are given and on the others a military drill takes place in which the boys are almost perfect.

Mr. Cook told of many boys who had been taken to the school by an officer, dirty, ragged and fithy outside and in, and who had been paroled, in every instance going to work and thoroughly reformed.

In conclusion Mr. Cook stated that the people are at last aroused and were helping the school. He invited the aid and prayers of the audience.

In behalf of the club Mrs. Whitsett promised the co-operation of the organization in behalf of the great work that the training school is doing.

RESULT OF HARD WORK.

Some of the Best Citizens in the Community Did Their Best in Framing the New Charter.

Mr. Editor:—

Any commision form of government is superior to our present form of municipal government for the reason, that "the man on the street," as Emerson called him, is stimulated thereby to take a larger and keener interest in municipal affairs. He realizes, what he does not under our present system, that men who have entire control of the city's affairs are put there by him, and are his servants. He feels a personal interest in their success and a personal responsibility for their failure. This feeling is reciprocal. This is the secret of the success of the various forms of commission government that have been tried.

Does the charter that we are to vote on Tuesday answer this test? I think it does and for this reason I shall vote for it. It is the result of hard and unselfish work and deliberation on the part of some of the best citizens of the community. Every man however humble was given an opportunity in public meeting to suggest any change that might occur to him. Without going into details, I venture the suggestion that no Charter could be framed, whoever might be the framer, that would be free from objection by some one, and proper and honest objection, too, from the point of view of the particular individual. Anything is better than our present system, nothing could be worse. Give the Charter a trial and then we can free it from any features that may have been proven objectionable by actual test and practice. It is easy of amendment.

With the Charter passed, we will be no nearer clean and efficient government than under the old system unless those citizens who really and unselfishly have the interest of the town at heart, take an active interest in the selection of the Commissioners. Even then they must sustain a sufficiently keen and live interest in public affairs to always keep before the Commissioners that the same cleanliness and efficiency in public affairs is demanded that is demanded in private affairs.

Anything for a change from the stagnant inefficiency of our present condition!

Respectfully,
DAVID STERN.

UNDERTAKING OUR SPECIALTY

DAY 762. PHONES NIGHT 1442

MUST AID GUILTY CLIENT.

Lawyer's Duty to Make Best Defense Possible, Says G. G. Battle.

New York, Feb. 3.—That a lawyer is not only justified in exhausting every honorable effort in the defense of a client he knows or believes to be guilty of the offense charged, but is required to do so by the ethics of his profession, was the conteitno of George Gordon Battle in a lecture before the Educational Alliance last night. The talk was one of a series to be given under the auspices of the New York County Lawyers' Association.

"There is a widespread belief that it is an impropriety on the part of counsel to accept a retainer in a crimnal case from one who is guilty of the chrage," said Mr. Battle. "Those who hold this view advert to the fact that the advocate is a public officer as well as a private attorney; that he is an officer of the court, sworn to assist the court in ascertaining the truth.

"These expressions of censure are amply justified when applied to counsel who may advise clients in advance as to how they can commit crime with impunity or with as little danger as the circumstances of the case may permit.

"But, to my mind, the lawyer who advises his client how he can in effect do that which is morally criminal, although by a technicality he does not contravene the letter of the penal law, is the worst of all—the most dangerous and the most contemptible. He is, indeed, a man who steals the livery of the court of heaven to serve the devil in. His acts bring discredit upon the bar, which he disgraces; upon the bench, the power of which he foils, and upon the laws, which he perverts or paralyzes. He is the true anarchist, and for him no censure can be too severe. Of his type there are, I firmly believe, but a small percentage in the ranks of the profession.

"Instead of there being anything discreditable in undertaking the defense of a guilty man, it is a high public duty that such a man should be properly defended. It is our custom and tradition, crystallized into law, that in a criminal case the State, represented by the district attorney, shall advance its theory of the guilt of the defendant, shall present all evidence tending to prove that contention to the jury, and shall argue thereon with all proper comments, to the end that the jury may be convinced of the defendants' guilt. It is the duty of counsel for defendant, on the other hand, to submit to the jury all the evidence in his power tending to show his client's innocence, and to argue and comment thereon in order to convince the jury that the charge against his client is untrue or insufficiently proven.

"Inasmuch as our system of laws requires both sides to be actively and vigorously represented, it follows, of course, that the defendant in all cases, whether guilty or not guilty, has the right to appear by counsel, because it is only by counsel that the case of the defendant can be properly presented to the court. Therefore if the defendant has the right to be represented by counsel, equally of course counsel has the right to represent a client whether that client be innocent or whether he be guilty."

A cold wave is said to be coming with a temperature of 32 degrees. Let us be glad it comes so soon. A few more days and it would ruin the peach crop.

We could say something in favor of the commission form of government, but it occurs to us the ground is pretty well covered elsewhere in the paper. We will say, however, that for Greensboro to adopt the commission form will be to get in line with some of the most progressive cities in the country, to advertise itself far and near and, in all probability, greatly to improve the administration of its affairs.

The suffragettes get no campaign ammunition from the result of the vote taken at Wellesley College. On ballot only 293 out of 850 students favored the extension of suffrage to women. Most of the teachers and older students, however, favored the measure, which shows more evidence favoring a former contention in this column, that the movement has not its raison d'etre by virtue of the support of those who are yet hopeful of domestic felicity.

The Chamber of Commerce did a wise and just thing to protest against the proposed change in the name of the negro A. & M. College to that of A. & M. Institute. If the institution is worthy to be called a college, where is the justice in calling it an institute simply because the present name conflicts with that of the A. & M. College at Raleigh? If a change is necessary it would require but little ingenuity to find an appropriate prefix to the word college.

President Davilla, of Honduras, telegraphs President Taft to intervene to the end that hostilities may cease at least until the country can negotiate a loan. But a loan would not go very far if the suspension of hostilities is not to be of some permanence. It would seem to be far more sensible and effective in its ultimate results if the United States would agree to offer military service until such a time as the warring factions of that restless republic could become civilized.

If the present number of the House of Representatives, 391, is not to be increased, several states would each lose a representative, North Carolina being among the number. But the law of the present apportionment, which is 234,522, might as well be changed to raise the number, in order that the House may remain as it is in the number of representatives. The House is sufficiently large to transact the national business coming before it; and if we should elect senators direct, the gain in that respect would more than compensate for the loss of a represenative.

Mrs. James R. Little, president of the Mothers' Clubs of Georgia, says that mothers should take up the detailed study of psychology in order the better to know how to train their little ones. That isn't by any means an idle suggestion. Some of these days perhaps the all-important subject of child-culture will be introduced as a part of the curriculum of our colleges for women. And why not? We suspect that it would be far more interesting to the normal young woman than either botany, zoology, biology, or even domestic science, though all of these are not only interesting but extremely beneficial. We shall be constantly on the qui vive for the first text-book on "How to Rear Children."

Murphy's candidate for United States senator from New York will probably be defeated. Legislators are losing interest and are staying away from the Assembly in the hope that something will happen. Murphy has been to see the governor again, but the governor says his policy of "hands off" will not be changed. An effort has been made to keep Depew's friends away so that Sheehan may be sent to the Senate through default, but nothing is doing in that line. Before many days Sheehan's friends will get tired of fooling away their time hopelessly and will agree to throw their support solidly toward electing Shephard, the man who attends to his private business and spends little time in wire pulling.

DANGER IN DOMESTIC PETS.

For some time it has been the belief of able scientists and physicians that domestic pets were not the safest things a child could play with. The other day a physician in Ohio decided to give the matter a thorough test. He had 100 cats caught from different parts of the town in which he lived, and after killing them it was found that everyone contained tuberculosis germs. If animals of this kind were kept clean and fed on something besides refuse in the way of scraps and stale food, the result would be different. Otherwise it were better not to have them about.

PLEADS FOR TOLERANCE

Mr. Brown Thinks Mr. Hood Needlessly Severe In Some of His Statements.

To the Editor:

Having recently returned to the city my attention has been called to an article signed by Mr. R. C. Hood and which appeared in a recent issue of your paper. In this article Mr. Hood refers to me personally as having made "cheap insinuations against the Chamber o Commerce," or words to that effect.

It is indeed unfortunate that a matter of policy for the city cannot be discussed by its citizens without personalities and stranger still that all the personalities in this present discussion have come from those approving the adoption of the new charter. These gentlemen, and especially my good friend and neighbor Hood, seems to take the matter too seriously, and consequently let their ardor run away with their good judgment. The only mention I have made of the Chamber of Commerce was made in a public meeting, called by Mr. Hood, he was present in person and if he did not like what I had to say why did he not then and there challenge my state ment instead of making a personal attack through your columns. As for myself, I am sure we can continue to live here after next Tuesday, no matter what the outcome and this being a fact let's all live together in peace and harmony and pull for Greensboro instead of maligning the town and its citizens.

Col. Wescott Roberson, of High Point, has recently met with unfavorable criticism because of his reference to Greensboro as a Rip Van Winkle, but it seems to your humble servant that as he lives in another town he should be allowed this privilege in view of the fact Mr. Hood, the president of our Chamber of Commerce, and a resident of our city has seen fit to handle the old town in a manner much more harsh than that employed by the colonel.

Mr. Hood refers to our bad lights when he is in full possession of the knowledge that a contract has been closed by which we will have the very best street lights in the world; that a number of these lights have already been installed.

Mr. Hood publishes to the world that we have practically no school facilities and refers to the Davie street temporary school as "a shack of a school house in a negro settlement." At the same time he is fully acquainted with the fact that we are at present erecting a $25,000 school building to take care of the children. that property has been purchased on Lee street for the erection of another building and that the present board has appropriated $6,000 out of the general fund to augment the regular annual school fund.

He also advertises to the world that our streets are bad and this may be true if viewed from the New York or London view point but is positively not true if viewed from the North Carolina viewpoint. I assert without fear of contradiction that as a whole we have as good streets as any town in North Carolina and that we far surpass all of them in the matter of sidewalks.

I fully appreciate the work Mr. Hood, as president of the Chamber of Commerce, proposes to do for Greensboro. I appreciate his value to Greensboro as a private citizen and I wish we had 41,999 more just like him, but Mr. Editor should he not be more tolerant of the other fellow's opinion on matters concerning the welfare of the city in which we are all vitally interested? What's the use flying off at a tangent and "cussing" out the town and every fellow in it that happens to differ with him. Is this the way to get co-operation and start a forward movement in our town? I think not. Under all the circumstances I do not blame the citizen of High Point and submit that his statement is not calculated to hurt Greensboro near so much as the publication made by Mr. Hood. Be a Booster. Don't be a Blue Goop.

Swindler Touches Grocer For the Sum of $8.75.

A swindler last night touched Mr. T. M. Bennett, the grocer, for $8.75.

Mr. Bennett received a telephone order for $1.25 worth of chickens and eggs to be delivered at 222 W. Gaston street. The person ordering the articles said that he had a ten dollar bill and requested that $8.75 change be sent.

The negro man who was sent to deliver the goods found a white man at the corner of West Gaston and Library Place. The man said "I guess I am the man you are looking for. Did you bring the change?"

The negro passed over the $8.75. The man pulled out a bill, looked at it and said "I thought this was a ten, but I find it is a twenty. I will go and get it changed and bring you the ten."

The negro waited a while, but the stranger didn't return. He is described as short and thick, clad in a dark suit and wearing patent leather shoes.

Governor Announces Reward For Wilson Murderer.

Raleigh, Feb. 4.—Governor Kitchin announces a reward of $250 for arrest of Lewis West, the negro who shot to death Deputy Sheriff Mumford and wounded Chief of Police Glover at Wilson last afternoon. Posses of citizens and officers are still scouring the country around Wilson. It is feared now, however, he has fled the state.

The Wilson company of State guard is under orders to aid the sheriff in preventing lynching in event the negro is apprehended anywhere in Wilson section. The sheriff of Cumberland county wired Governor Kitchin that he knows the negro to be a desperate character.

Lots of people are sure they are right who never seem to go ahead.

NOT A TECHNICAL MEDICAL LECTURE

Some misapprehension seems to exist regarding the address to be delivered at the court house Tuesday night by Dr. J. N. McCormack, secretary of the State Board of Health of Kentucky. Many of The Telegram's readers have apparently gotten the impression that the address to be given by this distinguished gentleman is on technical medical subjects, but such is not the case. Dr. McCormack, as the chairman of the organization committee for the American Medical Association, is touring the country, lecturing before medical societies and popular audiences in the interest of pure food, pure drugs, better sanitary and hygienic conditions, better medical colleges and better doctors. He claims that the public is as much responsible for present conditions as are the members of the medimedical profession, and he is, therefore, specially anxious to meet and talk with representative men in every community which he visits. Dr. McCormack's address will be on topics of vital interest to every intelligent man and woman in the community. The Telegram is asked to especially urge the presence and participation of all ministers, lawyers, teachers, members of women's clubs, etc.

There are no subjects which have attracted so much attention and roused so much interest of late as those connected with the securing of pure food and the bettering of sanitary conditions. It is hoped that every public-spirited citizen of the town will make a special effort to be present and to hear Dr. McCormack's address, as well as to take part in the general discussion which will follow.

The Sunday afternoon vesper services held by the Young Women's Christion Association have been proving very enjoyable to those who attend. At the service today Miss Cora Strong, of the Normal College, will speak and there will be special music by Miss Eugenia Patterson. All young women are invited.

NEGRO MAN SHOT, SERIOUSLY HURT

George Brooks May Die As Result of Bullet Wound Received Last Night.

About 8:30 o'clock last night, on Ashe street near the corner of Austin, Alfred Newsom, a young white man of Burlington, shot George Brooks, colored, in the right breast and seriously wounded him. He was later captured by the police and will be given a hearing before Judge Eure tomorrow morning on the charge of assault with deadly weapon.

Brooks, walking with a negro woman, was met on Ashe street by three white men—the Newsoms and a man whose name was not learned. The younger Newsom, it is stated by Peter Sercy, colored, an eye witness, brushed roughly against the woman and crowded her off the sidewalk. Then, according to Sercy's account, Brooks resented the conduct of Newsom and a quarrel ensued.

Sercy's account of what followed is that Alfred Newsom struck Brooks, who in turn struck the young man and knocked him down; the elder Newsom knocked Brooks down, the unknown man gave Alfred Newsom a pistol and Alfred Newsom then shot Brooks.

Brooks was carried to Sercy's house. His wound is a very serious one and may prove fatal.

Sercy followed Alfred Newsom to the Bijou theater and there communicated with the police. Officers Jeffreys and McCuiston went to the Bijou theatre. At the end of a performance Newsom walked out and when Sercy pointed him out the officers took him in charge. He denied having done the shooting.

Later William Newsom was arrested at the depot by Officer McCuiston and was locked up on the charge of assaulting Brooks by striking him with his fist. He denies having struck Brooks and also denies that he knows anything about the fracas.

The identity of the third man has not been established, but the police had several strong clues last night.

Both of the Newsoms and the other man were under the influence of liquor. As the Newsoms were strangers here the theory is that the third man was a Greensboro man who was piloting the Newsoms around to places where liquor could be had.

BELIEVED THAT WEST IS LOCATED

Negro Who Killed Wilson Officer Surrounded—Much Excitement.

Wilson, Feb. 4.—The murderer of Deputy Sheriff Mumford has not been captured, but members of the military company and hundreds of citizens are still on the search. The belief that he will not be taken alive is general. A mullato with a small wen on his neck named Lewis West killed Mumford and another negro, Wade Williams, was in the house at the time. West is reported to have been at Kenly, 12 miles from here, early this morning and many posses are working that territory with a determination that the murderer shall not escape.

Feeling is still very high. Governor Kitchin offers a reward of $250 for their capture, the city the same amount and citizens $600. The county will offer a reward Monday.

Mumford's funeral will be held tomorrow morning. He leaves six young children. Their mother is also dead. Chief Glover has a chance to recover.

At 10 o'clock tonight there is much excitement over a report just received that the negro is located in a negro house about 12 miles from here near Kenly. The report says the officers were given a tip by a negro, but the house will not be raided tonight, fearing a repetition of yesterday's tragedy but the posse will surround same till morning when it will be riddled by rifle shots or burned. The location is near a saw mill where, it is stated, West formerly worked.

Death of Colored Woman.

Many Greensboro people will regret to learn of the death of Aunt Mary Galloway, a highly respected colored woman of this city. She was stricken Friday evening while on her way home from work and died in a few minutes. "Aunt Mary," as she was generally known, was one of the few remaining colored women of the ante-bellum days.

A PRIME FACTOR IN BUSINESS

Business men find a banking account absolutely necessary to the proper transaction of their business accounts.

Besides affording the greatest convenience, and assuring the dispatch in the transfers of moneys, accounts paid by checks insures the payer against any possible loss or wrong payment, and when canceled, is the best receipt to be had. But in addition to the necessity of a bank account, there are many ways in which association with a strong bank can further the interests of any business.

HIGH JINKS IN RUSSIA

Moscow, Where the Money Is, the Scene of Freakish Excesses.

London Outlook.

If you would see the rich Russian of the middle classes spending her money in luxury and meaningless excesses you should go to manufacturing Moscow. There is the money. There they make it and there they spend it. There is, indeed, a fairly close approximation of the life of the people of this class and the millionaire descendants of the early millionaires of the United States.

Some of the best judges declare that even in Paris the Moscow ways of preparing food are hardly bettered. "Cochon de lait Moscovite," or sucking pig, is seen on nearly every dinner table. Hundreds of these young pigs only about a week old and ready for the oven are seen in every market, and they are roasted whole as a bird would be.

Caviar is served with specially made little cakes, crisp and dainty. But better than this is the sterlet, which the epicures of the world know to be the finest eating fish. It is a condition for the enjoyment of the sterlet that it should be eaten fresh, and at one of the chief restaurants in Moscow the sterlets are kept in a tank, and the diner catches his own from it and has it cooked for him.

We do not have sterlets in London, but they have been as far as Paris, for the Czar's chef, Cubat, got them there by filling their gills with bread crumbs which had been soaked in brandy. They were unconscious during the journey, but revived when placed in water again in Paris.

The cellars of Moscow contain the best vintages of wine that are known, and the prices do justice to the vintages as they do in no other capital. So to dine a la mode in Moscow is to dine at cost.

One might instance the case of a highly intelligent trained bear, that thought and counted. It was seen at an exhibition by one of the prodigals, bought for a very large sum and ordered to be cooked for a dinner party. The only doubt in the matter arose some months afterward, when the owner had another performer which he said he had trained in the meantime, but which some people considered had a peculiar resemblance to the one that was believed to have been eaten.

Then there was a host who took out all the wires and works from a highly expensive grand piano, stopped up all the holes inside, and then poured in champagne until it was full, and set a sufficiency of sterlets swimming in it, leaving the guests to come and take their own in the usual way.

There is another example in the casual visit of one of the rich young bloods to a certain cafe chantant of a superior kind, where a small ballet was in progress. Young Dives had the restaurant cleared of tables and chairs, sent out for caviar and had it pasted all over the floor until there was not an inch that was not black with it. And then, by instruction, and at a price, the girls of the ballet, in their pretty costumes, came to this floor and lay down on it and rolled from one side of the room to the other.

Of course, this sort of thing is no more representative of Russian life in general, or Moscow life in particular, than are the freaks of some of the New York rich.

PNEUMONIA FOLLOWS A COLD.

But never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar, which checks the cough and expels the cold. M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo., says: "It beats all the remedies I ever used. I contracted a bad cold and cough and was threatened with pneumonia. One bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar completely cured me." No opiates, just a reliable household medicine. Howard Gardner.

A Hint.

Teacher—I have been trying for some time to get the room so quiet that we could hear a pin drop. I have dropped the pin several times, but you have been making so much noise that it has been impossible to hear it. What do you think we had better do, children?

Reddy Backrow—Tie a dumb-bell to it next time, teacher.—Brooklyn Life.

Backache, Rheumatism, Sleeplessness

Result from disordered kidneys. Foley Kidney Pills have helped others, they will help you. Mrs. J. B. Miller, Syracuse, N. Y., says: "For a long time I suffered with kidney trouble and rheumatism. I had severe backaches and felt all played out. After taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Pills my backache is gone and where I used to lie awake with rheumatic pains I now sleep in comfort. Foley's Kidney Pills did wonderful things for me." Try them now. Howard Gardner.

Nell—"Tillie Tightwad reminds me of a clinging vine."—Belle—"Yes, especially in the way she holds onto a dollar."

An Open Letter.

Kernersville, N. C., Jan. 4, 1911, Vick's Ramily Remedies Co., Greensboro, N. C., Gentlemen:—I have used your Croup and Pneumonia Salve for spasmodic asthma and find it superior to anything I have ever tried. I cheerfully recommend it to any one suffering with this disease. Yours truly, Geo. W. Wilson.

HOW TO CURE ECZEMA, ITCH AND ALL SKIN DISEASES

Don't suffer a moment longer with Eczema, or any form of skin or blood troubles. Don't scratch or rub the skin. Just apply Hancock Sulphur Compound to the affected spots and it will stop the itching at once, and cure the trouble permanently. One 50c bottle will cure that prevalent trouble, Common Itch. Nothing cures skin troubles so quickly as Hancock Sulphur Compound. To beautify the complexion and remove black heads and pimples, use Hancock Sulphur Ointment, 25c. Mrs. Evelyn Garst, of Salem, Va., writes: "Three years ago I had a rough place on my cheek, it would burn and itch. I was fearful it might be of a cancerous nature. I used different preparations, but nothing ever helped it. One bottle of Sulphur Compound cured me completely. I recommend it to any one having any skin disease." HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and, so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It allays itching instantly; makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

MARK TWAIN

1/2 Price

A New Edition

Now for the first time you get a complete set of all Mark Twain's writings at just exactly one-half the price they have ever been sold before. This is a new edition, just as complete as the old one, which still sells, by the way, at $50.00. This new edition is only $25.00—for the 25 volumes.

It had been Mark Twain's ambition to have his books in every American home, and he made a great personal sacrifice to bring about this remarkable opportunity—for the first time in the history of publishing, copyrighted books are sold at the price of non-copyrighted books—the chance will not come again.

But for Mark Twain's action this would have been impossible. Never before has a copyrighted library set of a standard author's works been issued at such a low figure.

His Complete Works—25 Beautiful Volumes

Brander Matthews says: "Mark Twain will be included in that group of writers headed by Molière and Cervantes. With the exception of Count Tolstoi, Twain was the greatest of recent modern writers, and will be handed down to posterity through the trio of his works 'Huckleberry Finn,' 'Tom Sawyer,' and 'Pudd'nhead Wilson.' Twain is a greater stylist than Stevenson or Thoreau, and his 'Man that Corrupted Hadleyburg' is one of the finest works in English literature." Mark Twain himself wrote a preface to this edition. Brander Matthews has written the biographical criticism of Mark Twain and his work. There are portraits of the author at periods when the different books were in process of writing.

There are beautiful pictures by such artists as Frost, Newell, Smedley, Thulstrup, Clinedinst, Kemble, and Opper. The binding is in rich red rep silk book cloth, with title labels stamped in gold. The books are printed on white antique wove paper, especially made for this edition. Each volume is of generous size and bulk, 5x7¼ inches.

INTELLECTUAL AND PHYSICAL DISPLAY

Big Inter-High School Event Being Planned For Spring—Fifty-One High Schools Will Be Represented—The Event Will Most Likely Be Held in Greensboro.

Yesterday afternoon at the McAdoo hotel was held a meeting of representatives of fifty-one High Schools from 21 counties around Greensboro, the meeting being for the purpose of arranging for a contest between representatives of the schools represented in declamation, recitation and track athletics.

The arrangements are about perfected for holding this intellectual and physical contest in Greensboro and the date will be about April 1. It is expected that between 150 and 200 students from the several high schools will participate in the several contests.

When he learned that the committee was to meet here Mr. W. H. Swift went before the committee and invited them to hold the contests in Greensboro. Several other citites are after the contests, but as Greensboro is the most convenient point the committee will most likely decide on Greensboro.

Among those here for the meeting were Messrs. Frank Foust, Pleasant Garden; J. E. Coltrane, Jamestown; K. H. McIntyre, Holly Springs, Wake county; M. D. Dry, Cary; N. W. Walker, Chapel Hill.

Inspected A. & M. College.

The legislative committee yesterday visited the Agricultural & Mechanical College for the colored race, going over the institution and observing the manner in which the affairs of the college are conducted and the needs of the institution. They expressed themselves as highly pleased with the work being done. The committee returned to Raleigh yesterday afternoon.

Nelson as a Courtier.

Nelson was the hero of England even in his own time, but not apparently of the court. Samuel Rogers recounts a conversation with him which appears in the life of the poet by R. Ellis Roberts. "I heard him once during dinner," says Rogers, "utter many bitter complaints (which Lady Hamilton vainly attempted to check) of the way he had been treated at court that forenoon—the queen had not condescended to take the slightest notice of him. In truth, Nelson was hated at court; they were jealous of him." But then it must be remembered that Rogers was renowned as a particularly ill natured gossip.

The Ruling Passion.

It is related of a certain German savant, to show how strong the ruling passion is in death, that as he was dying he exclaimed in French, in which language he was deeply learned, "Je meurs" (I die). Pretty soon he opened his eyes before passing away and added: "Man kann auch sagen, Je me meurs!" (One can also in French use the reflexive form of the verb "to die.") His last flicker of interest was in the word more than in the fact of death.

Disraeli's Humor.

I was introduced by particular request to Mrs. Wyndham Lewis, a pretty little woman, a flirt and a rattle—indeed, gifted with a volubility I should think unequaled and of which I can convey no idea. She told me she liked "silent, melancholy men." I answered that I had no doubt of it.—Letter of Benjamin Disraeli to His Sister.
